EXPERIENCE WITH HANSINI NGO

Executive Summary

I am Vanshika Babral student of Lovely Professional University Jalandhar. Currently I am pursuing B-tech in Computer Science. I worked as an intern in the NGO (Non-Governmental Organisation) named HANSINI from June 2024 to July 2024. During my internship in Hansini I have earned valuable skills and knowledge. This internship was done under the guidance of President of Hansini Mrs Kusum Lata ma'am for the purpose of Community Development Project assigned by the university. This report highlights my experience in working with Hansini.

Introduction

NGOs play vital role in addressing various social, environmental, and economical issues globally. They often work on causes like education, healthcare, human rights, conservation, and community development. The aim of NGO is to serve society by providing assistance to poor people and senior citizens. The main moto of Hansini is "We do not want to pity the poor but we have to enable them". Hansini is run by women on which showcase women empowerment.

Activities and Achievements

Various projects were held by the Hansini through which we were made aware of the dark side of society. As a responsible citizen of our country it is our duty to look upon what is going in our surroundings and what all we need to do in order to serve our country. We have learnt to apply our problem solving techniques and young creative minds for the problems faced by the society. Hansini provide support for health care, emotional support, educational support and environment conservation. With the help Mrs Kusum Ma'am we performed following projects:

- Food Donation and Medical Support
- Cleanliness and Hygiene
- Educational Support
- Say No to Plastic Bag
- Orphanage Visit (MERA PARIVAR)

Food was donated to one needy person who was ill and could not afford to get treated and purchase food. This person was given medical support also. For cleanliness we lead a cleanliness drive at a public park. To manage plastic waste cloth bags were distributed.

Lesson Learned

The more we learn, the more we realise we need to learn. The Hansini is a treasure trove of knowledge from where you gather unlimited knowledge. From listening to the experiences of Mrs Kusum ma'am to working with her, we gathered lots of knowledge. From the very first day to the last she made us acknowledged about the dark side of the society. We were made aware of the social problems which were needed to be looked upon. Youth can be biggest reformer if lead to a right path. The life-long lesson learnt is to be good human being and always help the poor or needy person.

From Cleanliness and Hygiene project we learnt how important it is to maintain clean surroundings.

Unhygienic surroundings give rise to environmental degradation in form of soil pollution, water pollution, and air contamination. It is also responsible for bacterial diseases which is not only threat to humans but animals and birds also. Nature is the source of living for humans so we must be sensitive about it. We must save it for the future generation.

Say No to Plastic Bags project was lead to make people aware about the harmful effects of plastic. Nowadays plastic is found almost everywhere from industries to the households and from households to the garbage dumps and from the garbage dumps to the stray animal's food. Plastic is a non-degradable substance which takes thousands of years to decompose completely. It is highly responsible for almost every time pollution. This project was a small step to reduce plastic in daily to daily life. More than hundred cloth bags were distributed to the local people. Small steps lead to bigger success.

Orphanage visit was the most memorable experience. We visited an orphanage named Mera Parivar. The head of the orphanage recited her story of building it which made each one of us emotional. She enlightened us with the harsh reality of society. Mostly there were girl child in the orphanage. Although the society has moved far but still girl child is not accepted. Most of the children were of divorced parents which shows how important it is to have family planning because at the end it is the child who suffers.

Recommendations

Although the Hansini is working at its fullest to help people and there no doubt it will work excellent in future. Here I want to suggest some ways to make Hansini more known by people.

As social media is nowadays popular so Hansini must take its advantage by coming on social media platforms like Instagram. It will help more people to join the NGO and provide service to the needy people. Also the NGO is run by women so it will inspire and motivate other women.

Secondly, Hansini must have its own website or webpage which contain all projects with images, videos or blogs. As people now prefer watching YouTube videos than movies for taking motivations so Hansini can also create a channel and upload videos. It can also be a source of income for it.
